Six South Street Hotel Chooses Sales Leader

Hanover, NH October 7, 2010 — Don Bruce, General Manager of Six South Street Hotel, recently announced the selection of Michael Hartson as the Director of Sales of the new boutique hotel in Hanover, NH. Most recently, Mr. Hartson was Director of Sales and Operations at the Hanover Inn. Retiring after 15 years there, he decided to re-enter the world of Hotel Sales.

Mr. Bruce explains, “Michael is the perfect candidate for Six South Street Hotel. He is a seasoned sales professional with great ties to the Hanover and Dartmouth Communities.” “I am excited to not only have the opportunity to reconnect with my many friends in the community, but to offer them a top notch facility,” Mr. Hartson remarks. Sean Riley, COO, Maine Course Hospitality Group, describes Michael, “He exemplifies the perfect sales professional; he is loved in the community, very respectful and full of energy.”

Six South Street Hotel, with its 69 rooms, is expected to open Early 2011. This Uptown hotel in Downtown Hanover is just 2 blocks from Dartmouth Green and The Hop. This boutique style hotel features a restaurant and lounge, library with media booths, high speed wireless internet, valet parking, 37 inch HD TV’s and a rather edgy design. There are also 10 restaurants within walking distance to the hotel. www.sixsouth.com

The Freeport-based Maine Course Hospitality Group (www.mchg.com) also owns and operates hotels and restaurants throughout New England under such brands as Marriott International, Hilton Hotels and Best Western. MCHG added two new hotels in New Hampshire last year; The Fairfield Inn & Suites in Exeter and the TownePlace Suites in Gilford.
