Boutique Hotel Opens Near Dartmouth College

Hanover, NH February 14, 2011 The Six South Street Hotel, located in downtown Hanover, opened its doors for business this past weekend. Sean Riley, Chief Operating Officer for Maine Course Hospitality Group commented, “We are very happy with the finished product and quality of the Six South team. They were ready for their first guest and the Winter Carnival crowds.”

Don Bruce, General Manager, explains, “Close to 500 people toured the facility during the final phases of construction. There was an overwhelming feeling of excitement from the community to have a stylish boutique hotel in downtown Hanover. There are lots of great restaurants and hotels in the area, but this one is unique and will add a fun and lively option. Guest comments over the weekend were extremely positive.”

The Six South Street Hotel, with its 69 rooms, is designed to show a New York Flare with warm, yet lively colors. This Uptown hotel in Downtown Hanover is just 2 blocks from Dartmouth Green and The Hop. It features the Bistro At Six (a lively restaurant and lounge), a library with media booths, high speed wireless internet, valet parking, 37 inch HD TV’s and a rather stylish design. www.sixsouth.com

Freeport-based Maine Course Hospitality Group (www.mchg.com) will own and operate this hotel. They also own and operate 12 hotels throughout New England with Marriott and Hilton brands, as well as 3 restaurants in Maine. Six South Street is the first Boutique Hotel in its portfolio.
